NANN SMITH LAUNCHED

With Qu'et Ceremony,

LUNCHEON AT HOTEL WARWICK

Miss Smith, the Sponsor, the Shipyard Company's Guest of Honor at Delightful Informal Affair at Which Mr. Post Was Toastmaster.

Another successful launching oc-curred at the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Com-pany at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morn-ing when the C. A. Smith Lamber Company's new lumber steamer Nann Smith gracefully glided down the ways on the north side of ship trestle No. 2. As the vessel started on her jour-ney to the water, Miss Nann Smith, the eldest daughter of President Smith, of the owning company, smash-ed the traditional bottle of champagne across her prow. ncross her prow.

across her prow.

The launching was a very quiet one, the only witnesses being President Smith and a few other officials of the lumber company, the yard officials and other invited guests. Immediately after the launching the guests were driven in carriages to Hotel Warwick, where the officials of the yard tendered a post launching luncheon in honor of the sponsor. Covers were ladd for fourteen and a number of informal toasts were responded to. General Manager Walter A. Post acted as toastmaster.

General toasts were responded to general Manager Walter A. Post actalled as toastmaster.

The local yard was awarded the contract for the construction of the Nam Smith last January at a cost of $250,000$. The vessel is rapidly nearing completion and probably will be ready to leave the yard next month. The steamer is designed for the lumber service on the Pacific coast and has a carrying capacity of 2,250,000 feet of timber.

At the same time that it received this contract, the yard was awarded a contract the yard was awarded a contract by the Hammond Lamber Company for building a duplicate steamer of the Nam Smith. That vessel is named the George W. Fen wick and will be ready for launching the latter part of this month. She will be completed in November.

The Gender of the Moon.

In English, French, Italian, Latin and Greek the moon is feminine, but in all the Teutonic longues the moon is masculine. Which of the twain is its true gender? We go back to the Sanskrit for an answer. Frofessor Max Muller rightly says ("On the Religions of India"), "It is no longer denied that for throwing light on some of the darkest problems that have to be solved by the student of language nothing is so useful as a critical study of Sanskrit." Here the word for the moon is mas, which is masculine, Mark how even what Hamble call, "words, words, words," lend their weight and value to the adjustment of this great argument. Hand Cut With Lead Pipe - Arm Became Painful and Swollen-Sufferer Was in Despair, for Amputation Seemed Last Resort.

CURED IN A MONTH BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"A few years ago, while at work, I cut my hand with a piece of lead pipe and, as it was but a mere scratch, did not give it any attention. A few days after my arm began to pain me and became terribly swollen. I went to see a physician, who told me it was a cose of blood poison, and if there were no signs of the inflammation leaving I should have to have my arm amputated. He treated me for a menth or so, but did not help me. Another dector told me it was inflammatory rheumatism, but his medicine seemed to do no good. I gave up all hope and was discouraged, At last a friend told me to try a good blood medicine. I used Cuticura Resolvent Pilis for three weeks, when, to my surprise, the place where I had cut my hand began to feater and then broke out in a large sore. The swelling went down, and I applied the Cuticura Ointment and inside of a month my arm was entirely cured, and I owe my recovery to the Cuticura Renedies. I can never praise them enough, and I recommend them to all my friends. Ben. Jenkins, 148 Washburte Ave., Chicago, Ill., Doc. 23, 1906."
